

WILD BOAR

Wild boar is a big even-toed ungulate and a typical omnivore. Its coat consists of dense bristles, which can protect the animal against unfavourable weather. Wild boars are active mostly at night and usually spend days by resting.

www.facebook.com/lesnipedagogika

www.twitter.com/ForestPedCZ

www.lesnipedagogika.cz

www.uhul.cz | Information on Czech Forests

Issued by Forest Management Institute,
Czech Republic © 2014